PRICE TWO CENTS

STUDENTS' SOCIETY MEETING CALLED FOR THURSDAY

morning's at seven

by Caleb Gordon

The Paths of Glory

Here now in his triumph where
all things fall, Stretched out on the spoils that
his own hand spread,
As a god self-stain on his own
strange altar,
Death lies dead.

(Swinburne.)

George Bernard Shaw, in his epic fantasy "Back to Methuselah", erected a statue to Falstaff, as the greatest coward of all time — because it is the cowards who live. A typically impractical Shavian philosophy, on the surface; but a shrewd and mordant commentary on the entire course of human history. For the valiant still die, trading moments of glory for lifetimes of peace. Not their own lifetimes, but the lifetimes of others. The lifetimes of cowards — for the cowards still live.

This is the classic paradox of human ethics—that the great good fight for social justice has had no recompense for those who have made the greatest sacrifice. It is a paradox which has many morals, all of them remembered when the peace is made, and all of them forgotten by the time that war returns. Shaw's moral—that it is more practical to be a coward—is itself a useless paradox. Indeed, all the morals have the same ultimate fulfillment, except one: that war is illogical.

Of course war is illogical. Everyone knows it. Everyone believes it. Yet wars exist, and continue to exist, and continue to threaten the flimsy security of civilization. And why? Because each time war returns, the voice of pacifism—history's eternal wallflower—is drowned out in the drum-beats and the trumpet-calls summoning mankind to heroism, to a personal sacrifice beyond repayment, to a protective but utterly unproductive split-second of transient glory. Because each time Death, lying dead, has received reincarnation.

Of course no mortal gratitude can ever repay what Lincoln called the last full measure of devotion. Listen to Dr. Karlo Valkonen, Nobel prize-winning psychiatrist of Robert E. Sherwood's great play "There Shall Be No Night": "Those who give their lives are also giving to mankind a symbol—a little symbol, to be sure, but a clear one—of man's unconquerable aspirations to dignity and freedom and purity in the sight of God."

Yes, and listen to him again: "I have often read the words which Pericles spoke over the bodies of the dead, in the dark hour when the light of Athenian democracy was being extinguished by the Spartans. He told the mourning

CUP WIRES

Acadia: Word has been received here that Dr. Charles Huggins, a former Acadia graduate, who is one of America's top urological surgeons and recognized leader in cancer research, has accepted the invitation of John Hopkins University to assume a full time post as Director of the Department of Urology. His appointment will also include a professorship in Urological Surgery in the Medical School and the position of Chief Urological Surgeon at the John Hopkins Hospital.

Alberta: For the first time in western Canada representatives from four western university dramatic clubs presented a program of one-act plays as an experiment in joint drama efforts based not on a competitive basis but as a means of common betterment and exchange of ideas.

Dalhousie: This University mourned the loss this week of two distinguished professors, Professor Walter Copp, Head of Department of Engineering and Dr. James Martell, Provincial Archivist, both of whom died within a few hours of each other early Thursday morning.

INITIAL BROOKLYN Vs. MCGILL DEBATE HELD FEBRUARY 21

All Students May Contest For Positions On Teams

The first debate ever to be held between Brooklyn College and McGill University is to take place Thursday, Feb. 21, when two McGill teams, one in New York and the other at home, will present both sides of "Resolved that we are winning the peace."

Both co-eds and male students may contest for positions on the teams this Thursday, at 8:30 p.m., in the Music Room of the Conservatorium. It is expected that a large number will try out. In the past, Canadian-American debating has attracted many of our finest speakers who would not otherwise participate. The visitors from Brooklyn will be co-eds.

STARTS AT 8

At McGill, the debate will take place Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Union Ballroom; at Brooklyn College it is scheduled for the noon hour of the same day. "This will give the McGill representatives Thursday night and the remainder of the weekend in which to see New York. Word has been received that, entertainment has been planned for the speakers," said Isadore Rosenfeld, President of the McGill Debating Union. A tour of the city is a part of the program being arranged for the visiting team to McGill.

Three prominent personages are being approached to judge the contest at McGill, and their names will be announced Feb. 15. At Brooklyn a "no-decision" debate has been declared.

HARVARD DEBATE COMING

The Society announced that a debate with Harvard will definitely be held later in the term. Word from Harvard concerning this is expected shortly.

The executive of the society feel that the exchange of ideas between Canadian and American university students cannot fail to be of great value and interest. It is hoped that McGill students will support fully these international debates.

Speaker Pleads African Cause Before Forum

Nigeria Ready For Freedom, Asserts Ojike

By ALEX HAINES
"Nigeria is a country with a great future once it can attain its freedom," stated Mr. Mbonu Ojike to the Peoples Forum, yesterday, in his address "Africa Speaks". He painted a picture of a people who hoped for freedom in order that they might assert themselves as a nation.

"The African peoples," he said, "are capable of looking after themselves and should be allowed to do so. Long before the white man came, we had a kingdom with a proud history. We had too our own religion, our own concepts of freedom."

Mr. Mbonu Ojike was born in a Nigerian village about thirty years ago. His father was Amana, or local chieftain. Disregarding all obstacles which tradition and parental authority had placed in his way, Mbonu entered mission school. He taught High School in Nigeria and followed correspondence courses from Oxford. Eventually he travelled to America and earned a Bachelor of Science degree, and later he received his masters degree from the University of Chicago.

Nigerian mass education is one of the great ambitions of his country. At the present time 80 per cent. of the schools are supported by religious groups, 10 per cent. are organized by the local Nigerian government, five per cent. are private. (Continued on Page Four.)

Engineers to Hear Dr. Dunsheath, OBE

Dr. Dunsheath, C.B.E., president of the British Institute of Electrical Engineers, will address the Engineering students of McGill and of L'Ecole Polytechnique on February 7, at 4 p.m. in the amphitheatre of the Chemistry Building.

Director and General Manager of W. T. Henley Telegraph Works, London, England, Dr. Dunsheath is in a position to outline the relationship between industry and the engineering student. In his "Message to the Engineering Student," he will stress the tremendous advancements of most engineering branches in the last half decade, and how this affects the basis and evolution of engineering studies.

The Engineering Institute of Canada has arranged Dr. Dunsheath's visit to Canada, and after his address at McGill, he will speak to the E.I.C. assembly in conjunction with their annual meeting.

Minister of National Defense, D. C. Abbott, Heard by Club

Future Canadian Military Plans, Technical Research Developments Discussed; Operation Muskox Cited As Example

By JOHN FETHERSTONHAUGH

Douglas C. Abbott, Minister of National Defence, yesterday addressed an open meeting of the McGill Liberal Club in the Union Ballroom. He spoke on "Future Canadian Military Plans" and devoted a large part of his address to discussing the technical research development that is needed to build and maintain a modern striking force. Operation Muskox was mentioned as an example of a research project for defence purposes, having many applications in civil fields. Mr. Abbott then outlined the government's plans for the setting up of the permanent armed forces, particularly the Army, but stated that many of the details were still being worked out.

OPERATION MUSKOX

Mr. Abbott, speaking on this operation, said that it was the fourth in a series of northern manoeuvres, the others being called Polar Bear, Eskimo, and Lemming. These operations were started to train men and develop equipment for the projected invasion of Norway. One of the most important pieces of equipment developed was a special snowmobile, based on the U.S. Weasel. Fifteen of these snowmobiles, with reduced armour, will carry the personnel of Operation Muskox.

Stressing the civilian aspects of this expedition, Mr. Abbott mentioned the establishment of a weather station at Baker Lake. He also pointed out that far from being on the outer fringes of Canada, this operation will be carried on in territories almost in the geographical center of the country. This area is virtually untravelled and unmapped, and members of the Geodetic Survey will accompany the expedition.

POST WAR DEFENCE FORCE

"Soldiers, Sailors, and Airmen of the permanent defence forces should be regarded by the public as civil servants doing an important job," said Mr. Abbott, outlining the Post War Defence set up. The new permanent army or "Active Force" will consist of 25,000 men with up-to-date equipment and a new scale of pay. Mr. Abbott said that those who went into it would find the life far more interesting than that of the old permanent force because of the larger size of the new force and the large amount of research and development work that would be going on all the time. This was considered of such importance that a Department of Research and Development had been set up, headed by a civilian, which would be directly under the Minister of National Defence and on an equal footing with the General Staff.

Mr. Abbott answered questions dealing with services policy for almost half an hour after his speech. He was introduced by Marcel Joyal and thanked by Rosalie Ballantyne.

Veterans to Plan Housing Campaign

Currie Gym Meeting Tonight Will Contact Local Organizations

Implementation of a public campaign on housing will be considered tonight at 5 p.m. when student veteran representatives of 5 Montreal universities and 4 vocational training schools, constituting the Committee of Montreal and District Student Veterans' Societies, gather in the Currie gymnasium.

In addition to the McGill Student Veterans' Society, other Universities represented will be: the University of Montreal, Loyola College, Sir George Williams College, and Macdonald College. Vocational training institutes expected to be represented are the Commercial College of Rehabilitation, Montreal Drafting Institute, Maurice Dress Designing School, Art Association and the Montreal Apprenticeship Commission.

Following up the results of the National Conference of Student Veterans, the Committee will discuss the possibilities of arranging a meeting between itself and prominent city organizations interested in the housing problem. Such organizations as the Citizens Rehabilitation Committee, the Emergency Housing Committee, the

Canadian Campus

CARD GAMES

Conducted by The Varsity

University students find a pack of cards the cure for any dull moment. Canadian campus reports indicate this week. In the evenings and at lunch hours and occasionally even in labs and classes, bridge, poker, and gin rummy flourish and it's a studious soul indeed who at the end of four years is not an addict of at least one of these extracurricular activities.

MCGILL UNIVERSITY

Bridge is the most popular card game at McGill. It is played unceasingly through the day in the smoky atmosphere of the Union cafeterias. The monopoly on the tables at lunch hour which bridge players previously held was this year broken when players were ordered to court their luck elsewhere during the noon hour. Nearly all students play the game and the majority belong to a club of some kind. Most of them are working for the day when they can join the Duplicate Bridge club—an aloof society which permits membership only to experts. The McGill Daily periodically publishes problems for friends and also occasionally play by play descriptions of spectacular bids that have been made during tournaments or competitions.

BISHOP'S UNIVERSITY

Bishop's University also considers bridge the leading card game. It is played at all hours of the day and night and interest is widespread. Observers there, however, have noticed of late a distinct rise in the popularity of gin rummy.

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN

The West as represented by the University of Saskatchewan holds out for poker. Sinister mumblings about all night games are often heard in classes.

UNIVERSITY OF MONTREAL

The University of Montreal also reports that bridge and poker are popular ways of killing time. As yet there the University does not have a complete campus so there is no room for general get-togethers. However, bridge games can usually be found going on in any available space.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

Again at Queen's bridge is the outstanding card game. Poker takes next place. Students play at meal times in the evenings and at the students' union and in the residences.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Bridge and gin rummy are the favourites at the University of Toronto. Active games of both are reported to take place in the back rows of lecture rooms.

Fee Increase For Women Is Approved

Coeds to Pay Extra Amounts To Union Sec.

The amendment of the Women's Union constitution which constitutes a raise from $8.00 to $10.00 in the amount of Women's Union fees to be paid by each student, was voted through unanimously by 69 women students at a special general meeting yesterday afternoon in the R.V.C. Common Room.

Following the reading of the last meeting's minutes, the proposed amendment was read by Hedwig Brown, Treasurer of the M.W.S.A.A., and seconded by Phyllis Wood, President of the M.W.S.A.A. The amendment was passed following some discussion as to the allocation of the extra $2.00 per student. The distribution, explained Merelle Cayford, President of the Women's Union, will be as follows:

Students' Executive Council $5.00
McGill Daily 1.50
Women's Union 3.50

The amount paid to the bursar with the regular tuition fees next fall by all women undergraduates in good standing will therefore total $10.00, a raise of $2.00 over the previous $8.00.

It has been previously explained that the distribution of $5.00 to

McMaster Host Of Drama Meeting

The first meeting since the end of the war of the Inter-Varsity Drama League was held last weekend at McMaster University. The universities represented at this meeting were McGill, McMaster, Ontario Agricultural College, Queen's, and Toronto. McGill representative was Mary Hummel, secretary of the Player's Club.

Resumption of Inter-University competition and the planning of the program for the following year were a few of the purposes for the calling of this meeting. The original purpose of the League is to be a pooling of ideas with respect to the various dramatic clubs, and to hold a competition once a year at

Charity Drive Closes Today; Booths Set Up

Dentistry I Tops Objective by 2%; Returns Needed

Special booths in the Arts and Biology buildings today will mark the final day of this year's combined charity appeal. Canvassers in the larger faculties, however, will continue to contact students until all subscription forms have been covered.

Dentistry I has now joined the faculties and schools which have gone over the top in the Charity Drive. The Dentists have attained 102.2 per cent. of their objective. Those who have not contributed as yet and wish to do so have only today, as the campaign ends at 5 p.m. All class presidents are requested to have as many returns as possible in Mr. Fletcher's office by the end of the afternoon, so that a reasonably accurate estimate of the success of the drive can be made.

The special names total has risen to $271, and the graduates to $60.25. Miscellaneous returns amount to $79. The total receipts are $3,627.99, or 37.8 per cent.

LATEST PERCENTAGES

Latest percentages are as follows: Physical Education 4, 118.6 per cent.; Theology, 105.9 per cent.; Physiotherapy 2, 105.5 per cent.; Library School, 102.5 per cent.; Dentistry 1, 102.2 per cent.; Architecture 4, 91.7 per cent.; Graduate Nurses, 90.8 per cent.; Physiotherapy 1, 85 per cent.; Law 3, 85 per cent.

Physical Education 3, 75 per cent.; Architecture 5, 71.4 per cent.; Law 2, 63.3 per cent.; Commerce 4, 55 per cent.; Music, 52.5 per cent.; R.V.C. 3, 51.6 per cent.; R.V.C. 1, 50.4 per cent.; Dentistry 3, 50 per cent.; Architecture 3, 50 per cent.; Law 1, 47.3 per cent.; Medicine 1, 46.9 per cent.; Medicine 3, 44.6 per cent.; Engineering 2, 41 per cent.; Medicine 2, 40.3 per cent.; Engineering 3, 39.9 per cent.; Engineering 4, 34.5 per cent.; Architecture 2, 33.3 per cent.; Engineering 4, 27.7 per cent.; Arts and Science 3, 27.3 per cent.; Commerce 3, 28 per cent.; R.V.C. 4, 22.7 per cent.; Dentistry 2, 22.5 per cent.; Partialis, 20.4 per cent.; R.V.C. 2, 16.8 per cent.; Commerce 1, 12.4 per cent.; Arts and Science 4, 6 per cent.; Arts and Science 2, 4.7 per cent.

2,800-h.p. Motor Here on Exhibition

Mr. B. G. Markham To Augment Display With Slides, Talk

The Bristol Aeroplane Company of England has placed on exhibition in the Engineering Building, the section-operating model of their 2,800 horse power Hercules motor. Supplementing this exhibit, Mr. B. G. Markham, the company's chief designer, will present a slide-talk on recent aeroplane engine developments, on Wednesday, February 6, at 5 p.m. in Room 33 of the Engineering Bldg.

The 14 cylinder radial motor can be seen until Thursday evening, in the Upper - Thermo Laboratory, where a company technician is on hand from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p.m., except this afternoon when the laboratory is closed due to classes.

This aircooled engine is one of the latest designs of aircraft powerplants to come out of Britain's war-gear industry. During the latter stages of the struggle, such well-known aeroplanes as the Beau fighter, the Lancasters, and the Halifax, were powered by these "pound per horse power" engines.

All major operating parts are exposed by cut-away sections, and activated in their general scheme of motion. Thus every feature of co-ordination and detail is visible. For those uninitiated to the mechanism (Continued on Page Four.)

Handicrafts Courses Available at R.V.C.

Regular handicraft classes for men and women are held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 in the Royal Victoria College. The present courses are in leatherwork, plastics and weaving.

These classes have been organized as a student activity with the assistance of the handicraft Department of Macdonald College. The main purpose of the courses this year is to train instructors for military hospitals. Those not wishing to teach however, may attend any course they are interested in.

There is still time to register for this term. The present timetable is, leatherwork on Tuesday, plastics on Wednesday and weaving on Thursday evening.

UBC Inaugurates Provincial Drive To Finance Gym

Students And Alumni Plan War Memorial Costing $500,000

Vancouver, February 4.—(CUP)—A province-wide project to finance a five hundred thousand dollar War Memorial Gymnasium for the University of British Columbia was launched on Saturday by the students and the Alumni Committee of the University.

Approved by the Board of Governors of the University, the campaign will be directed to the students, the Alumni and to every B.C. resident. "The building should be dedicated to British Columbia youth who served in the two World Wars and also to satisfy a pressing need at the University," said Allan Ainsworth, president of the Alma Mater Society.

Pledged to raise one hundred thousand dollars, the student body plans to employ such methods as milk bottle collections, co-eds selling kisses, and a marathon inter-faculty mile of quarters race.

Robert Osborne, Director of Physical Education, pointed out that the present gym permits only one-third of the recreational activity to be carried out. Plans of the new gymnasium call for a swimming pool, two basketball courts, wrestling and boxing rooms, women's gym, archery ranges, rifle ranges, and an auditorium capacity of 2,000. The present facilities accommodate only six hundred students, and the enrolment at the University today is over seven thousand.

Vets at Dawson To Meet Tonight

National Conference Of Student Veterans Report Will Be Given

St. Johns, Que., Feb. 4.—(Special to the Daily)—President Joe Cadloff of the Dawson Student Veterans' Society announced here that there will be a meeting of the society tonight in the Dawson theatre. He urged especially that all new students attend so that they may learn something of the activities and aims of the society of which they are all automatically members.

A report of the National Conference of Student Veterans held in Montreal from January 27-29 of last year will be given by Len Starky, Chairman of the Conference, and President of the McGill Veterans' Society.

Other items on the agenda will be election of representatives of the January class to the executive, a report by the educational committee, and a discussion of a scheme for housing students moving to Montreal next year. After the business, the floor will be open for questions on all matters of interest to student veterans.

There will be an executive meeting of the Players' Club at 1:00 p.m. sharp in the Players' Club room in the Union, today.

There is a great deal on the agenda and all concerned are requested to be on time.

TO START AT 5

Constitutional Amend- ments to Be Discussed

CONSIDERED FOR YEAR

Senate Hears and Ap- proves Initial Amendment

The Students' Society of McGill University will meet in the Union Ballroom at 5 p.m. Thursday on call from President Richard J. Balfour. The purpose of the general meeting is to consider a series of amendments and sub-amendments to the Society's constitution.

For more than a year the Students' Executive Council has felt the need of bringing the Society constitution up to date. The Council set up a constitutional committee last year, which prepared a report for the Council. Late last Fall, the Council held several regular meetings and one special meeting devoted entirely to the reorganization of the constitution.

Initial amendments were thus drawn up and discussed with the University Senate's committee on the constitution. That body tentatively approved the Council-sponsored amendments. The amendments, along with the old constitution were published in The Daily two weeks ago when notice for the meeting was given publicly.

With the publication of the amendments several further amendments and sub-amendments were handed in to the Secretary of the Students' Society, and subsequently published in The Daily. These clauses, as well as the Council's suggestions will be considered at the meeting Thursday. The full text of the amendments and other clauses to be considered will be published again in tomorrow's Daily, and the old constitution as well as a recapitulation of the new suggestions will appear in The Daily Thursday morning.

Student interest has centered largely around the changing of the quorum and number of signatures required for a Students' Society meeting and the increase of the number of Students' Executive Council which today consists of twelve members, to include unrepresented faculties. A further amendment proposing the increase of the Managing Board of The Daily from three to six has also been proposed.

Caribbean Students To Form Committee

At a meeting held in the Union Board Room last night, it was decided by several students from the Caribbean to hold a mass meeting on Friday, February 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Union Ball-room.

The object of the meeting will be to elect a McGill Caribbean Students' Broadcast Committee, consisting of 14 persons. Six from Bermuda, the Bahamas, Leeward and Windward Is., Barbados and British Guiana, three each from Jamaica and Trinidad, and two 'floating' members from the aforementioned places. This committee will be expected to deliberate on all matters pertaining to future Caribbean Broadcasts.

WORLD EVENTS

Nuernberg—German guns wretchedly shelled the famous Louvain University library until it was a fiery ruin, but the Germans failed to force Belgian officials to put the blame on the British Army, Prof. Leon Van Der Essen, Louvain University general secretary, testified today.

Montreal—Dr. E. P. Fetherstonhaugh, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada and dean of engineering and architecture at the University of Manitoba, will preside at a conference of deans of engineering at the Mount Royal Hotel on Saturday.

On A Lost Love

by Maria Lara

Down the dark corridors of Time I tumble and I grope
Trying, always trying to stop to halt to cease
To grasp it and make it mine and master it
To hold it for a minute still in the dark corridors.

And it comes over me like a rush in the quiet
hours of the night
That Time is wasting while men talk and people
beat their brains out.
That this is all we have, all we ever will have,
and it is wasting Running away like sand in the quiet empty
hours of the night.

There is a black fury, I have felt it, many have felt it
When they must rush to a wall and beat their brains against it.
When they hammer their fists bloody and know
not what nor why
Know only Time is wasting—sand running away
in the dark corridors.

II.

Who am I? I am the illusion
The dream you have left behind, the last
Sigh of wishing, the lingering
Remnant of the mirage when you wake
And shake yourself, still warm from the pillow.

Talk to me, touch me, feel me, can you?
You cannot, I am a dream, an idea, a thought.

I am a feeling in Spring, when the air
Softens so you can tell it is Spring
With your eyes closed.

STUDENT RECITAL

Songs, piano, violin and clarinet will be featured at the Students Recital, to be held in the Conservatorium, Wednesday, February 6th at 8.30 p.m.

For those of you who really appreciate music and for those of you who only like it, we print this advance program of the Students Recital to be held in the Conservatorium Wednesday, February 6th at 8.30 p.m.

At the piano will be David Eldinger playing the "Chopin Waltz" Op. 66 No. 1, Robert Robinson with
"Consolation No. 6 in E," by Liszt, "Noble Drum" and
"Les Petites Moulins a Vent," by Couperin, Neill MacKinnon and "Impromptu in A Flat," by Schubert, and finally Barbara Goodwin L. Mus. with "Rhapsodie in G Minor," by Brahms.

Also on the program there will be six songs,
"Breathe Soft Winds"—Handel, and "Das Wandern" Schubert, to be sung by Arthur Perlin; "With Verdure Clad"—Haydn, and "Only Bleed"—Bach, by Barbara Scott; and to conclude "The Wanderer"— Schubert, and "Love of Freedom"—Schumann, by Howard White.

Giving further variety to the program are these clarinetists: Anton Harting with Rabaud's "Solo De Concours"; Frant Boner with Messager's "Morceau De Concours"; and Steven Gerny with "Concerto" by Mozart.

For those who wouldn't go unless they could hear the Violin, there will be Ruth Lowe playing "Concerto in E Minor" by Nardini (2nd and 3rd movements) and Harvey Grossmann playing "Preludium and Largo" by Pugnani-Kreisler.

South is playing the contract at 3 No Trump and West opens the Spade King. Declarer sees 1 Spade winner, 2 Heart winners, 3 Diamond winners and 3 Club winners—sufficient to fulfill his contract—
but if West held 5 Spades as well as the Heart King,
the time element will be distinctly against him, because he will be compelled to permit West to win
with the Heart King, which, together with 4 Spade tricks, will defeat his contract. Of course, if either Clubs or Diamonds break 3-3, 9 tricks will be won.

Declarer can therefore see no advantage in holding up more than once winning with the Spade Ace.
He permits West to win the first trick and then takes West's Spade Queen with the Spade Ace at trick
two. The Diamond and Club suits are both played and East shows up with 4 Diamonds and 4 Clubs.
Now Declarer has a perfect count of the West hand.
He knows that West holds no Clubs and no
Diamonds, and that the only cards he can hold are 3 Spades and 2 Hearts. So that at the lead to the ninth trick, if Declarer plays a Spade, West will be forced into the lead, and after cashing his 3 Spade tricks (making 4 tricks in all for the opponents) will be end-played, having to lead a Heart up to Declarer's Heart ten ace.

LETTER FORUM

STUDENT SOCIETY MEETING

To the Editor:
Letter Forum,
McGill Daily.

I would like to point out in connection with the recently published amendments to the Student Council Constitution, that the main amendment involved has not been brought to the attention of the Student Body. This amendment changes the number of signatures necessary to call a special meeting of the Student's Society from Twenty-Five (25) to Fifteen Hundred (1,500), and the number needed for a quorum from One Hundred (100) to Five Hundred (500).
The reason for this amendment, if there is any reason, is the "fact"
that certain groups which are alleged to be irresponsible have taken upon themselves to call meetings of the Student Society and pass measures in the name of that body.
These criticisms might have some basis were it not for the fact that of the meetings called, one was on a measure — the deportation of Japanese Canadians — on which the Council itself has seen fit to place its stamp of approval; at one of the other meetings — the one supporting the Argentine students — there certainly could have been no complaint that a few wilful individuals were forcing their will upon the Student Body. Almost Four Hundred (400) students attended. Although this is not a majority of the students of McGill, it seems quite obvious that those who opposed the measure were equally free to attend.

What then is the alleged cause of this great concern among our campus leaders? It is presumably caused by the affair of the resolution advocating the internationalization of atomic power. At this meeting, several short of the quorum attended.
But there were several causes: In the first place, the meeting was given almost no publicity until the actual day on which it was held, in the second place the evening before the meeting, Messrs. Truman and Atlee issued their statement
upon atomic energy and a meeting must have looked superfluous to many students. Moreover, it was apparently the editorial policy of the Daily to play down the meeting. And there is recrimination from the Students Council, and from the Daily, charging that irresponsible groups are using the Students Society for their own purposes! Sir, the only irresponsible group is the Students' Council and the McGill Daily.

This statement seems shocking at first, but consider: After the election of our Students Council responsibility to the student body disappears, for the members of the Council, in general, do not run again for office and moreover,
their reactions rest unreviewed and unquestionable. The case of the Daily is even more disturbing. The Editor, by no means an elected official, has the responsibility for the editorial policy of the Daily. And it has been charged that he has used this power, as in the case of the atomic bomb meeting, to keep the story from the headlines of the Daily, until the last possible moment.

I would like to observe that in the publication of the proposed amendments to the Constitution, the great est care seems to have been taken to hide the actual content of the amendments. A large number of changes were suggested which have no appreciable effect upon the body of the Constitution. They tended to discourage many a student from reading through the dry-as-dust material to the vital paragraph at the end, in which the regulations for special meetings were cited. I do not suggest that the Editor or anybody on the Daily staff, had any wilful purpose in mind when this was done. I say merely that it is the duty of the Daily to put the facts squarely before the students, and to point out the importance of certain amendments.

It is imperative that as many members of the Student Society as possible turn out for the Constitutional Meeting. And I also suggest that members of the Students Executive Council should attend and be prepared to give their views
upon the measure.

Sir, this university does indeed have self-government. It does not have responsible government. For this reason, I call upon all liberal minded students to support the sub-amendments which call for the appointment of three representatives from the various faculties upon the managing board of the Daily. I also request support for the sub-amendment which calls for an open meeting three times each year
at which the members of the Student Council may be questioned upon any point by the Student Body. Above all it is necessary to defeat the amendment whereby the Student Society is prevented from calling a meeting without the gathering of a ridiculously large number of signatures.

NAT WOLFE,
Arts II.

(Ed. Note: We would like to correct Mr. Wolfe in his statement that a meeting to discuss the deportation of the Japanese-Canadians was called by the Students' Society. No such meeting took place.)

AMENDMENTS

Mr. Editor, I wonder, Mr. Editor,
how many students realize the significance of the sub-amendments
published in last Wednesday's Dal-ly?

The strangest thing is that a large proportion of these sub-amendments are put forward by a political club. Surely when political clubs were first planned on the campus it was not generally expected that they would try to dominate the student society!!

The sub-amendments seek a reduction from 1500 to 50 in the number of signatures required, from over 6000 students, to call a special meeting of the student body and reducing the quorum of such meetings from 500 to 200. But even worse, another amendment calls for three meetings annually without any quorum at all!!!!

What could make it easier for a small minority to call a meeting, whip up a quorum, and pass whatever resolutions they desired; whether the resolutions reflected student opinion, or even dealt with matters of concern to students at McGill?

This is a matter of interest to every student. All of us should study these amendments, which are in direct opposition to those proposed by our elected representatives and then attend the meeting on Thursday the seventh of February.

Yours truly,
G. D. SIMONS.

QUORUM AND PETITIONS

To the Editor McGill Daily:

Dear Sir,—I wish to call to the attention of the student body, one of the amendments recently proposed to the Student Executive Council Constitution. Its provisions, roughly, are the following: Meetings of the student body, may be called only by the Student Executive Council, or by a petition containing 1,500 names.

The quorum requirement is raised from 100 to 500.

Important as this measure obviously is, it has passed almost unnoticed by the Student body, being unfortunately immersed in a sea of seemingly superfluous motions. I might perhaps even believe, Mr.
Editor, that these other propositions were meant to act as a stalking horse to help in pushing through unnoticed the key motion. I of course do not really believe such a thing. But I maintain that this proposition is of vital importance. And whatever purpose it was meant to fulfill, it will in effect abolish all independent action on the part of the students.

A short analysis of the consequences of the motion will prove my point. There are I know, approximately 4,000 students in the University; but, as the gentlemen
who were elected to the Students Executive Council know, it is unfortunately rare to have as many as 1,500 voting. Thus the petition requirement above is proved very difficult to reach. Now, concerning the quorum provision, it is widely known that McGill students are usually busy studying; how, then,

is it ever expected to assemble over 500 of them for a five o'clock meeting. This is about all Moyse Hall will hold. The Students'
Executive Council with their experience of student government,
will back up my contention.

Thus it is essential to come to Thursday's meeting, with a rational decision. The issue is this:
either the initiative on the part of the students is abolished, or the motion is either amended or defeats. I myself am persuaded, that the Students Executive Council, when they realize its import, will amend the motion of their own initiative. Personally, I am in favor of a requirement of 300 signatures, and the quorum being left unchanged at 100. This is enough to ensure the Student Body against minority action, leaving it free to act on important matters.

In finishing, I wish to assert that my letter is in no way an attack on the Students Executive Council, but simply expresses my opinion
on one of the amendments presented. Concerning the other motions, I see nothing to criticize.
I only wish the figures proposed for the quorum and petition refused. And I feel sure they will be amended to the general satisfaction of Council and Students.

Yours truly,
J. WAELEBROECK.

MOCK PARLIAMENT

To the Editor, McGill Daily:

Dear Sir—The undersigned would like to draw to the attention of all political clubs on the campus and all future participants in the Mock Parliament, the necessity of achieving a new note in the discussions carried on therein. We feel that the Mock Parliament was created to allow intelligent discussion on fundamental issues. We also feel that there has been a regrettable tendency for the speakers to fall back upon the tried and trusted method of harrangue, rather than a straightforward presentation of viewpoint. We do not suggest that we are free from criticism in this respect, but we are willing to conform to a higher standard of discussion and we hope that this feeling will prevail in future sessions.

Yours sincerely,
John A. MacDonald, Arts III

Senior Hoop and Puck Squads See Action Tomorrow

Red Hoopsters Conclude Regular MBL Schedule Against Georgian Quintet

Chances for Title Hinge Largely On Victory over Arch-rivals

Tomorrow night will see the curtain fall on McGill's participation in the Montreal Basketball League when the senior Redmen meet Georgians in the second game.

This game, which promises to be a hard fought thriller, is the one which had to be changed when the men from Sir George pleaded sickness a few weeks ago. In last year's play, the Georgians wrote finis to McGill's hopes of the title when they defeated the Red Raiders in the semi-finals. This time they will be out to repeat their performance, and since they boast such stars as Guthrie and Flynn, they are waxing confident of victory. The Redmen, however, will be watching for any tricks, and by their standard in the league so far will provide more than tough competition.

GREENBERG STARS

Dave Greenberg, who for our money has played the best basketball of the series, will be on hand for this tilt. A fast two-way man, Dave is exceptionally well fitted for the style of ball preferred by coach Lou Davies, and the playing of his usual outstanding game should go far towards assuring victory to the home team.

During this season's play, the Georgians have proved to be singularly ineffective against both McGill and the Y.M.H.A., and perhaps the departure of military personnel has had something to do with this.

LARGE CROWDS

The turnout of spectators to these M.B.L. games has been very good right through the series. At every match upwards of 1,500 enthusiasts have been on hand to cheer their favourites. This proves the growing interest which is being felt in Montreal now towards the fast indoor game, and augurs well for the future of basketball in this city during the postwar years.

Intermediate Cagers Stand Good Chance To Win Championship

On Wednesday, February 6th, the McGill Intermediate Cage Squad will meet the University of Montreal team in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium, in their second and last game of the season.

If your memory is correct, you will recall that on December 5th those famous Red and White hoopsters defeated the U. of M. 29-23 in an exciting and well played game which was the beginning of a series of victories for the Red cage squad.

INTERMEDIATES SECOND

The Intermediate Team has more than a good chance to finish on top of the M.B.L. ladder if their friends from Dawson can drop one of their two remaining games. At present the seconds rest in second place.

Coed Cagers Conquer Central YWCA Squad

With two wins over Macdonald College and one over the Central Y.W.C.A., the McGill coed basketball team meet Westmount High in a non-league game today in the Currie Gym at 3.00 p.m. The Red and White teams remain undefeated under the able guidance of Dorothy Douglas, the new coach.

Thursday night the Intercollegiate team scored a 32-1 victory over the Central Y.W.C.A. The Junior team followed their lead with a 38-20 win. The return game with Macdonald College was a repetition of wide margined triumphs for both our teams; Sr. 35-26; Jr. 35-20.

Lineup:
Senior Team—May Adams, Dot Helleur, Ann Fleming, Bobby Fenton, Mary LeMesurier, Freda Wales, Alice Trevis, and P. A. Macfarlane.

Junior Team—Anne Merston, Belinda Taylor, Louise Macfarlane, Marg Duguid, Ann Wasylyck, Jean Macken, Marg MacKinnon, Dot Nichol, Heddie Brown, and Elaine Ritchie.

Whalen Paces Victors To Playoff Conquest Of Sidus Aggregation

St. Johns, Feb. 4.—(Special to The Daily)—The Tengineers won the Dawson Floor Hockey League championship, by edging out the Sidus 3-2 in a hard fought and thrilling game to take the best-of-three series 2-1. The Sidus won the first game 5-3 but the Engineers evened it up last Thursday by racking up a 2-1 victory. The game was very rugged and several times the game had to be stopped to allow players to effect minor repairs upon themselves.

The game opened at a very fast clip and end to end rushes gave both goalies plenty of work. The Tengineers' defence duo of "Bump" (Continued on Page Four.)

Successful Gymnasts To Earn Positions For Meet In Toronto

The Annual Wicksteed Gymnastic Meet is scheduled to be held today in the east end of the Currie gymnasium. Results of this contest will count heavily in the selection of the Gym team to represent McGill at the Intercollegiate Gymnastic Meet to be held in Toronto on Feb. 23rd.

The competition is open to any student registered at McGill, Dawson or Macdonald. Competitors will be divided into three different classes as follows: 1, Freshmen; 2, Sophomores and Juniors; 3, Seniors.

The winner of the Freshmen Class will qualify for the F. W. (Continued on Page Four)

Red Trackmen May Compete In Races Soon

Receive Invitation For Hamilton Meet Called for March

The McGill track team has received an invitation to the International Indoor Track Meet which is to be held under the auspices of the 91st Highlanders A.A., in Hamilton, on March 20.

This is the first time that the meet has been held since the war and as the highlight of the Canadian track season will attract the best in the Dominion.

ACCEPTANCE UNCERTAIN
As yet no official word has been issued concerning McGill participation in the meet but it is felt that the invitation will probably be accepted. The possible contenders for berths on the team include such men as Henry, Brewster, Lamontagne, Pennyfather, Gillespie and Ballon. Other top-notchers such as MacDowell and Roche are almost sure of going if permission is granted.

A wide series of events are slated for the Hamilton meet. These include the mile relay, two-mile open, 1,000-yards open, 500 and 300-yards open, among others. The McGill track squad made a splendid showing in these events in the track tourney run off in October and can be expected to show well in the Hamilton meet.

McGill Ski Team Departs Thursday For Hanover, N.H.

Coach Pangman Leads Eight Students Entered In Dartmouth Tourney

The McGill Ski team will be out to garner in the laurels next Friday and Saturday when they invade Dartmouth for a meet there. In the last encounter with Middlebury, the Redbirds were triumphant in all events except the jumping, and now with some good jumpers added to the roster they are confident that they will give the Dartmouth outfit a good fight for the honours.

TEAM NAMED
The team managed by Bob Everston boasts such top flight skiers as Art Bruneau, Don Stanforth, Bob Tilden, Carle Olson, Bob Walby and John Foster. All these men are well versed in the art of speeding over the snow, and their combined efforts should be enough to put McGill on top. At any rate, coach and former Redbird Harvey Pangman shows no signs of worry.

On Friday, the morning will see the running off of the downhill, while the slalom will be held in the afternoon. On Saturday morning the cross country is to be contested, and in the afternoon the jumping will take place. A banquet will be held on Saturday night.

The Mount Baldy meet has been scheduled for Feb. 10th and all those who intend entering are advised to pick their zone cards up at the Athletics Office.

Squash Tournament Enters Quarter Finals

The McGill squash championship continues with the quarter finals which must be finished by Thursday evening. As yet there have been no upsets but two dark horses have appeared in the form of Gillespie and Don Farlinger, either of whom might upset the apparent when they run into the seeded players. Third round results are Gillespie defeated Ross McDonald 3-0, Farlinger defeated Burrows 3-0, Denis Stairs defeated Ross 3-0, Culver defeated Finley 3-0 and MacFarlane defeated McLean 3-0.

The squash team's captain, Dave Culver and the manager, Pete Landry played last week-end in the Canadian Squash Championships which were held at the Carlton Club in Toronto. Culver ran into tough first round competition and was defeated 3-0 by Bill Boake. In a first round match, Landry took D. Mills 3-0 before bowing 15-11, 18-16 to John Reindel who hails from Detroit and holds their city championship.

Peirson Second In Puck Scoring In College Loop

Gignac Takes Over League Scoring Lead Garnering Eleven Points

The second weekly compilation of the scoring race of the Intercollegiate Puck loop by the McGill Daily finds Johnny Peirson still in second spot. However, top place among the sharpshooters was taken over by Jean Paul Gignac.

CARABINS GAIN
The top rungs have a different complexion than last week when the Redmen and the Varsity Blue-boys led the loop. After their 16-2 spurge against Queen's, the University of Montreal has a number of men in the Big Seven. Peirson, O'Connor and Tommy Hale are the McGill men in the select circle.

McGill Senior Pucksters Meet Lachine Sextet Wednesday Night Feb. 6

Return Engagement Scheduled For Next Friday at Forum

Fresh from their 8-2 victory over the Golden Gaels from Queen's the McGill Senior Hockey Team will meet the classy Lachine Sextet in an exhibition tilt at the Lachine Arena next Wednesday night.

This will be the Red and White's first clash with the Lachine Squad who, up till a few weeks ago held first place in the Provincial League. The Redmen's next foes are rated pretty fair by official observer as a lot of their players were at one time members of the Defence Hockey League which to say the least was very good.

LINEUP NOT DEFINITE
Allan Rae, new manager of the McGill Team is not as yet sure of the line up as it will be decided at today's practice which will be held at the Forum from 12.30 to 1.30. Dave Campbell will certainly work hard on the boys as he intends to keep on top of the Intercollegiate ladder.

On Friday night at the Montreal Forum the Lachine Hockey Team meets the Redmen in a re-match, this also being an exhibition game. QUEEN'S NEXT

The dear old clergyman was much hampered in his Sunday School work by lack of helpers, and accordingly decided to make a special appeal in church for some of the congregation to come forward and assist. "I am very short of Sunday School teachers," he announced. "Particularly do I want some young ladies. At present I am compelled to carry on with two ladies from an adjoining parish."

practice will serve as workouts for the next intercollegiate scheduled game which will be played at Kingston on February 15th when Campbell's boys meet the Queen's Team in the fourth game of the season. Pacing the Redmen at present are Pierson, O'Connor and Spiller who are combining to form one of the smoothest intercollegiate lines since the days of McConnell, Piddock and Walker. Indeed, their smooth passing and sharp shooting have placed Pierson and O'Connor at the head of the McGill scorers.

HERE WE GO AGAIN

Cage, Volleyball, Puck Teams In New Intramural Schedules

Only one game was played in the Interfaculty hockey league yesterday, and in it a powerful Commerce team edged out Arts by a score of 5 to 4.

The game was the most thrilling of the series to date, for at one point the Commers were out in front by four goals. The Artsmen rallied, however, and had approached to within a point of the victors, when the game ended.

ROULEAU, PALMER

Rouleau was outstanding for the Businessmen's sextet and played a fine two-way game, taking time out to score a goal in the middle of his defensive duties. Palmer was the top man for the students of culture, scoring four goals, while Jamieson also turned in a fine game.

The next contest is scheduled for today, when Science meets Physical Education at the McTavish Rink. This game should prove to be as exciting as the preceding ones, which climaxed in yesterday's thriller.

In the Interclass hockey league yesterday, Med. 1 defeated Grads

3 to 1. For the victors, Dow was the top scorer with two goals, while Taylor notched a single tally to complete his team's scoring. Mann was also outstanding in the Med nets. Seigal was the only point getter for the Graduate squad.

The Volleyball series will continue tomorrow in the Currie gymnasium, when Arts & Science 3 and 4 meets Engineering 2 while Arts 2 faces the third year Plumbers at 5.15 p.m.

These Volleyball games are very well fought. They provide the utmost interest for players, and at times deserve a better turnout than is present.

ARTS 3 & 4 FACE ENG. 2A

Basketball, too, is very much in the front line of intra mural sports, and this afternoon at 5.15 Science 3 & 4 will clash with Engineering 1A in what should result in an exciting tilt. Neither of these teams has as yet been defeated, and they will both be gunning for the chance to meet the Dawson and Macdonald quintets in the race for top honours.

Newman Club
The Newman Club announces the annual retreat, which will open on Thursday evening at 7.30, February 7, and close with Mass and breakfast on Sunday, February 10, at the convent of the Sacred Heart, (McGregor and Atwater Sts.). The evening talks will not last longer than an hour, and breakfast will be served after 7.30 Mass on Friday and Saturday mornings. The retreat-master, Fr. Nicholas Higgins of the Capucians, is well known to Montrealers for his excellent meditations. It is hoped that all the Newmanites will take advantage of the spiritual opportunities offered to them by making the retreat.

McGill Voices Opinions On Caribbean University

(CBC Photos)
By means of the CBC International Service, McGill students from the Caribbean air their views on the possibilities of a Caribbean University to their folks at home in the first edition of the CBC's Caribbean Forum series.

Smiling, as he recalls the many ties between Canada and the Caribbean, DR. F. CYRIL JAMES, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, is shown opening the Caribbean Forum series on Sunday night.

Collaborating in its production were representatives of the Cosmopolitan Club, The B.W.I. Society, The Radio Workshop and the Scarlet Key.

people that he could not give them any of the old words which tell how fair and noble it is to die in battle. Those empty words were old, even then, twenty-four centuries ago. How much older, and how much more empty, now?

Yes, Death lies dead. And this time, perhaps, the reincarnation of Death will die, too. Perhaps the time has come when, once and for all, the children of men will forget and obliterate the old words, the glorious resounding words which sing of battle. May they never again be the new words, so grandiose, so terribly inspiring—so varied, yet all spelled Death.

In its general policy of presenting interesting engineering features to the students of McGill, the Engineering Undergraduate Society is inviting everyone interested to see this paragon of an aircraft engine. However, the slide talk presented by Mr. Markman, is restricted to Engineering students, due to the limitations of Room 33; there being also invited the students of L'Ecole Polytechnique.

FREE INCREASE—1
the Students' Executive Council instead of $4.00 will pay the $1.00 women students' undergraduate society fees, and will therefore allow them to vote in their respective faculties. The extra dollar accruing to the Women's Union will be placed in a sinking fund for future expansion.

Merle Cayford stated that the Women's Union Treasury now contains $4,500. Approximately $200 per year is saved from the total amount paid in fees to the Women's Union. This money is used for the support of the Freshette Committee and various clubs and societies sponsored by the Women's Union. In addition, a Voluntary Services campaign is financed by the Women's Union, and this year, for the first time, a grant amounting to fifty cents per student was allotted to each of the class executives of the first, second, third, and fourth years of women students.

America's stock phrase is a question. We've come to that conclusion after a little reflection, on the subject, and just for the fun of it we jotted down a few which probably will go down as classics.

Here they are:

WHENS:
"When do we eat?"
"Say when?"
"When was that?"
"When's payday?"
"When did you leave heaven?"

WHATS:
"What on earth did you do that for?"
"What's your name?"
"Well, what're you doin' here?"
"What's the trouble?"
"What're you wanta do now?"
"What have you got that gets me?"

WHYS:
"Oh, why was I ever born?"
"Why not?"
"Why worry?"
"Why do it now?"

HOWS:
"How should I know?"
"How much did it cost?"
"How'd joo know it 'uz me?"
"How about a date?"
"How come?"

WHEREs:
"Where's Elmer?"
"Where were you on the night of . . . ?"
"Where's my hat?"
"Where did you get THAT hat?"
"Where'dja put it?"
"Where has my little dog gone?"

WHOS:
"Who is that gal anyway?"
"Who's Yehudi?"
"Who killed Cock Robin?"
"Who broke the lock on the hen-house door?"
"Whodunnit?"

MISCELLANEOUS:
"Ain't it hell?"
"Huh?"
"Say, bud, gotta match?"

WICKSTEED—p. 3
Harvey Trophy; the winner of the Intermediate Years will receive a Bronze Wicksteed Medal; while the victor of the Senior Year will receive a Silver Wicksteed Medal.

Winners and runners-up will also qualify for McGill Athletic Awards. In order to qualify for one of the Wicksteed Awards the student must perform one voluntary routine on four of the following pieces of apparatus: Parallel Bars, Horizontal Bar, Mats, Side-Horse or Flying Rings.

Students who are not trying either for the Intercollegiate team or the Wicksteed Awards may enter and compete on only one piece of apparatus, if they so desire. Winners and 2nd 3rd place men will be named on each of the five pieces of apparatus mentioned above.

Red Pucksters Give Indians "Rough" Time In "Tea Party"

By SAUL H. RUBIN (Daily Staff Writer)

McGill's stellar puck squad created quite a name for itself over the weekend with a brace of victories in as many nights. Our local heroes ran rough shod over the luckless Gaels Friday — we "were slick around the nets and that's what counts" according to the Queens' coach after the tilt.

SHOOTING STATISTICS
The Redmen shot 56 times at the nets giving them an average of 1 goal per 7 shots. George Hale had the best batting average with 3 for 6 while Broderick and Tom Hale went goalless in 7 tries each.

Pelrson and O'Connor had two goals each and took 8 and 10 shots respectively while Ernie Spiller got into the charmed circle with a 1 for 3 effort.

Against Dartmouth Broderick & Co. shot 57 times, netting 9 of them. Pelrson with 2 for 4 and Millar with 2 for 5 were the big guns. For the two games George Hale came out with the best average which was the same as above as he didn't shoot once at the Dartmouth nets. Brother Tommy shot 12 times in vain while Pelrson scored 4 times with the same number of shots.

The way Pelrson scored his two tallies in Hanover had a lot of the "Richard" touch to it as he literally pushed the defence aside to put the puck into the cage. Incidentally Millar actually kicked in his first goal however the ref didn't see it. On the way, home "Pop" Millar came into the smoker where most of the other boys were and a friend of Heron's asked Doug if that was the coach, which ratifies his nickname. On hand at Hanover were Dr. and Mrs. Hale who are real McGill followers. Also cheering for the Red and White was Tom Morse who played right wing on the 34-35 and 35-36 McGill championship squads.

HOCKEY "TEA PARTY"
The Redmen got into a lot of trouble with the refs down at Dartmouth and managed to get off with eleven penalties. The refereeing was far too strict and slowed down our fellows as well as making them over-careful of even approaching the Indians. Coming off at the end of the first period Gordie Gosselin remarked "When are they going to serve the tea?"

All in all though the team was treated swell thanks to a certain Green Key chap named "Whitley" who did everything possible to make our stay a pleasant one. The whole team really liked Hanover although they found the game rather, boring due to the "gentleman" rules in force down there.
